

The Augusta County Historical Society presents:

A GREAT EVENING ON THE GREAT WAR
“A TALE OF INTRIGUE, TREACHERY,
AND A 100-YEAR-COVER-UP”

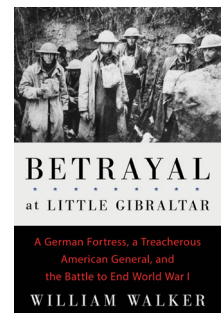

Tuesday, May 17, 2016, 7 p.m.

History Gallery of the R.R. Smith Center, Staunton, Va.

Staunton author William “Bill” Walker will thrill the audience with his new book, Betrayal at Little Gibraltar: A German Fortress, a Treacherous American General, and the Battle to End World War I. Retired C-SPAN journalist Connie Doebele will moderate the discussion in the same way that she brought authors into living rooms for many years on BookTV.

The event will be followed with a wine and cheese reception sponsored by Staunton's Yelping Dog Wine.

Seating will be limited to 50 people, with tickets available on a first-come, first-serve basis. To reserve your seat for this special event, fill out this form and mail with your check, payable to “ACHS” to:
ACHS, P.O. Box 686, Staunton, VA 24402
